

HEART WORTH TAKING [FEAT. KAYA]

[Verse 1: Ty Richard]

The first don't last
Fall down in the pain when the first stone cast
Killing that flame of the golden calf
Let's go right now didn't really wanna stay

You're the one that I wait
Need you now, every time when my heart in the way
Need you now, to remind what I thought in the pain
Still fight that feeling really till it don't stay

Because...
It's the love that is loveless
Everyone talk but they ain't feel nothing
The pull of my heart when I know what I want, but it's not what I'm taking
I know it's enough, but I really wanna talk 'cause I bought what you gave me

I'm talking about if you ain't any way of the love that I'm craving
You say you're enough, but you don't show up when I'm needing you lately
Running 'round, now you just driving me crazy
Face it then, maybe I was wrong in thinking

[Pre-chorus]

Do you really want a love that's fading?
Do you really want a love that's fading?
Or you really want a love that saves you

[Chorus]

Do you really want a love that saves you,
When your heart is breaking
And every other part of you fading?
Just open up a part of you, baby
And He's giving you a heart worth taking

[Verse 2: Kaya]

But when the first don't leave
And it really is the peace and love that you need
And you never knew a love that could feel this way
This'll be forever when the temporal fades

[Verse 3: Ty & Kaya]

Because...
It's the love that you're needing
A broken heart's what your feeling
I know that you're hurt, and you're building a wall that I can't get over
Making it harder to heal the scars that I know that you're holding
All of the pain when your heart is a place that is taken for granted
Guarding your love, don't trust anyone to be close in affection
You hesitant, but this this the only love that's mending
So let it in, this the only love that's endless

[Pre-chorus]

Do you really want a love that's fading?
Do you really want a love that's fading?
Or you really want a love that saves you

[Chorus]

Do you really want a love that saves you
When your heart is breaking
When every other part of you fading?

Just open up a part of you, baby
And He's giving you a heart worth taking
